Asian Anthropology
Vol. 14, Iss. 1, 2015

Contents

1. Editors’ Introduction
   Siumi Maria Tam, Gordon Mathews, Nawa Katsuo, Liu Shao-hua

2. Introduction: Overlooked religions in Hong Kong
   Chiara Formichi, Paul O’Connor

3. Chinese popular religion and Hong Kong identity
   Joseph Bosco

4. Religion as an overlooked category in Hong Kong legislation
   Chiara Formichi

5. The perceived role of religion in the educational attainment of Pakistani immigrant secondary students in Hong Kong
   Wai-chi Chee

6. Religion in Hong Kong education: representation in liberal studies textbooks
   Liz Jackson

7. Hong Kong citizens’ understanding of Islam: the case of the Sheung Shui Mosque development project
   Lok-yin Law

8. Hong Kong Muslim representations in Cantonese media: an Oriental Orientalism?
   Raees Begum Baig, Paul O’Connor

9. The emerging visibility of Islam through the powerless: Indonesian Muslim domestic helpers in Hong Kong
   Wai-Yip Ho

10. The religiosity of Filipina domestic workers in Hong Kong
    Valerie C. Yap

11. A sense of place: Sikh identity in Great Britain and Hong Kong
    Jasjit Singh