Join us for an "AI and Language Education" seminar, where passionate education practitioners will explore AI integration in language learning and teaching. Discover approaches to enhance student writing through AI-enabled platforms, examine the potential for generative AI in writing curriculum redesign, and learn about pedagogical strategies and practices that integrate generative AI into language classes. This seminar offers insights into leveraging AI technologies in language education to develop student-centred assessments and foster student engagement and personalised learning. Take advantage of this opportunity to stay ahead in the ever-evolving landscape of AI and language education.
