

Announcing the establishment of a new journal in the field of Oriental linguistics:

Cahiers de Linguistique Asie Orientale

Published by: Centre de Recherches Linguistiques sur l'Asie Orientale

Editor: A. Rygaloff

Cahiers de Linguistique Asie Orientale is published biannually. It includes:

1. Articles on phonology, syntax and semantics of any Oriental language. Detailed descriptions as well as theoretical studies will be considered for publication. French and English will be the languages mostly used in this publication.
2. Book reviews as well as synopses on specific problems.
3. A detailed bibliographical listing of books and articles in journals (for example, 1975 publications will appear in 1977). Such a listing will cover the same fields which are covered in the journal.

Manuscripts for publication, books submitted for review as well as all correspondence concerning publication and subscription rates should be addressed to:
