

JOURNAL OF CHINESE LINGUISTICS

MONOGRAPH SERIES NUMBER 27

2017

New Horizons in Evolutionary Linguistics

Edited by

Peng Gang Wang Feng

中国语言学报

CONTENTS

- v The View from Evolutionary Linguistics
Foreword by William S-Y. Wang
- xi Preface
Peng Gang and Wang Feng
- 1 Mirror Systems and More in Evolving the Language-Ready Brain
Michael A. Arbib
- 16 The Direction of Language Contact and the Analysis of Linguistic Typology
Chen Baoya and Tian Xiangsheng
- 46 Dynamic Attribute and Change of Chinese Lexicon
Chin-Chuan Cheng
- 67 Metric Learning for Phylogenetic Invariants: An Algebraic
Approach to Evolutionary Tree Construction
Nicholas Eriksson and Yao Yuan
- 86 Using Computer Simulation to Study Linguistic Diffusion
Tao Gong and Lan Shuai
- 105 Multi-Dimensional Viewpoints on the Origin of Tibetan Tones
Kong Jiangping
- 130 Human-Denoting Interrogative Words in Early Southern Min:
Coexistence and Evolution
Chinfa Lien
- 159 Language Evolution, by Exaptation, with the Mind Leading Salikoko S. Mufwene
- 191 Syntactic-Semantic Change in Chinese: Processes of Analogy,
Reanalysis, External Borrowing
Alain Peyraube
- 222 Nouns and Verbs: Evolution of Grammatical Forms
Shen Jiakuan
- 254 The Inexplicability Principle and Recognition of Genetic Relationship: To Solve the Controversy of Sino-Tai ‘five’ and ‘six’
Wang Feng