Office Hours: by appointment

Teaching Assistant: Haoqian Yu, haoqianyu@cuhk.edu.hk

Course Description: Curatorship is one of the most dynamic and demanding aspects of visual arts management. As museums expand globally and biennales gain prominence, curatorial interpretation now plays a pivotal role in defining art and institutional practice. Exhibitions serve as sites where diverse artistic concepts converge, and curating has evolved beyond administration into an integral part of artistic expression.

This course explores the history, theory, and practice of curatorship, fostering students' creative and critical skills in developing curatorial projects. Through a blend of technical training and conceptual study, students will learn to plan, organize, and interpret exhibitions while engaging with the ethical, managerial, and communicative challenges of the field. The course also critically examines curatorial traditions, their limitations, and their potential for innovation—or misuse—in contemporary contexts.

Prerequisite course(s): No Prerequisite

Methodology: As an upper-level MA course, students must complete all assigned readings beforehand and come prepared to discuss and question the material. Each section examines a specific theoretical and practical approach to curating contemporary visual art within Asian visual culture, exploring its hegemonic formation and testing its parameters in Asian/Hong Kong/Chinese contexts. The class combines lectures and discussions to deepen understanding of the readings, with student presentations in a seminar format.

Reading:

Course Materials: The required readings will be available on Blackboard and the CUHK Library Online, with additional texts provided weekly. The main textbook is:

- Adrian George, The Curator's Handbook: Museums, Commercial Galleries, Independent Spaces (accessible via CUHK Library).

Weekly readings typically total under 50 pages. For students unfamiliar with modern art history, the following supplementary texts are recommended:

- Mary Anne Staniszewski, Believing Is Seeing: Creating the Culture of Art (1995, Viking Penguin).
- Peter R. Kalb, Art Since 1980: Charting the Contemporary (2013, Laurence King Publishing).

Week 14: Students' Presentation, Final Discussion and Review (April 21)

Colloquium: Second round of student presentations: individual term paper topic

Evaluation (Grading and Assignments)

(1) Participation 40%:

Class participation: facilitator, inquisitor, finder of the object (in each term, students are expected to participate once in each role: each note on the three roles will be graded separately as 5% = total 15%, so prepare your facilitation notes well) → see the class format and class Attendance. If you know you will be absent on a day for which you are obligated for presentation (facilitator/ Inquisitor/ Finder of Object), trade with one of your colleagues in advance and notice me via email as soon as possible.

(2) Student Presentation and Mid-term Group Curatorial Proposal

Group presentation: Presentation (10%) + Exhibition Proposal (10%) = 20%

On group project, group exhibition proposal will be graded as a group (each group member will receive the same grade, while presentation will be graded separately in each students' performance)

(3) Individual presentation + Individual Curatorial Proposals

Presentation (10%) + final paper (30%) = 40%

During the semester, we will have two students' presentation days.

- (A) The first student presentation (group project): First one will be on March 3, 2026, on your group response paper topic. On this colloquium day, at least three to five students as a group to present on their collaborative response paper which is making an exhibition proposal. Provide many examples of the art works in relation to your curatorial intention.
- (B) Students are required to write one 5-page exhibition/exhibition proposal and present it verbally.
- (C) Exhibition Proposal Guideline: Despite formatting differences (your exhibition proposal format is up to your group), following topic and information need to be provided
 - ① Initial Exhibition Proposal: This should tell us what the physical work is, what the general theme is, and give a sense of scale of the exhibition (how many pieces, what sizes, which venue etc.).
 - ② What main ideas, concepts, or experiences does this body of curatorial proposal communicate with each other? This is the process of making narrative of exhibition. Thus, this part should embrace what the work gives the viewer (exhibition effect/ what curators want to show through the curatorial project, vision, praxis etc.)
 - ③ What inspirations or traditions guided or influenced this body of work? Tell us about the influences or inspirations behind this work.
 - ④ How are the methods or techniques you use important to this body of work? Tell us how, or what, the choice of medium or process contributes to this exhibition proposal.
 - ⑤ Any special installation needs or requirements? If your work requires specific installation techniques or equipment, let us know what those are. For example, numerous electrical outlets, audio-visual equipment, or specialized lighting, wall mounts etc.
- (D) On Mid-term group response paper: Students are required to write a collaborative exhibition proposal (except reference and endnote) regarding any type of exhibition that your group wants to actualize and make a clear exhibition proposal reflecting previous reading materials from the unit 1 you are interested in. Students summarize and articulate unit 1 reading materials about one page (critical summary for the unit) and then choose a topic to actualize an exhibition proposal your group want to actualize and propose.
- (E) Final student presentation: On the last day, we will have another students' presentation on the exhibition proposals. Both classes will consist of presentations from students. The length of the presentations will depend on final enrollment (you will know in advance how much time you have), and time limits will be strictly enforced to allow for discussion and responses. The model for these presentations will be conference panels.

General guideline: In preparation for the group project, which is making an exhibition proposal, your group will write a 4-5-page exhibition proposal in relation to topic of Unit 1. A hard-copy version will be submitted to me at the beginning of class on the presentation day. Please stick to the readings from the course for these papers.

On the second students' presentation (individual project), you will have an opportunity to present your initial synthesis paper/term paper topic and will have a chance to develop your term paper idea in advance.

(4) Final Individual Exhibition Proposal (30%):

Students are required to write one 8 pages, double-spaced term paper on an exhibition proposal with curatorial statement and/or a specific exhibition(s), and/or specific artist's work in relation to its curatorial approaches which in your view represents issues in relation to the class materials of curating.

The topic of your exhibition proposal is to allow you considerable freedom in the choice of topics but require that you clear the topic with me.

The Exhibition Proposal is due on April 28, 2026. (Tuesday) There is no final examination for this course. The instructor reserves the rights to adjust students' semester grades based on his evaluation of their overall performance.

Class Format

(1) Participation in Class Discussions

I expect everyone to participate regularly in class discussion. You should come every week ready to discuss the readings. Requirements for class discussion are as follows, good faith, attention to the readings, and relevance to the course.

(2) Discussion Facilitation (Facilitator/Inquisitor/Finder of the Object)

The Facilitator: Each week, at least three students will help facilitating discussion. Both discussion leaders should spend extra time on the readings and be prepared to discuss them in depth. Make facilitation notes and submit it to the teaching assistant by each Friday (3 pm). Depending on enrollment and other factors, you may perform one role more than the other. NOTE: some weeks I may have something in mind for discussion, in which case I will collaborate with the facilitators.

The Inquisitor will bring in discussion questions and topics, and lead the discussion. He/She should send an email to Teaching Assistant the questions/topics submit it to the teaching assistant by each Friday (3 pm) to circulate to the whole classmates with a list of questions and topics to discuss. You should aim to get at the most important issues in the readings, which will also mean prioritizing them, since we will need get to every reading every week. Questions can be oriented around anything from basic content questions or all the way up to "big picture" issues that connect the week's readings with other discussions we have had in the course. Please avoid as much as possible more than passing references to materials from other courses or other things you've read.

The Finder of Objects will bring in an object for us to discuss in relation to the readings. Your object may be an image, a sound recording, a photograph, a device, or anything else you think fit to bring in. If you need audiovisual equipment, please let me know as soon as possible, so that I can make arrangements. You may wish to present as ppt, submit it to the teaching assistant by each Friday (3 pm). Audiovisual material should be of short duration – no longer than approximately 8-10 minutes.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong values academic integrity. Therefore, all students must understand the meaning and consequences of cheating, plagiarism, and other academic offences under the code of student conduct and disciplinary procedures.

Policies, Expectations, Rules

1. Attendance and Performance: This course is designed for motivated students who attend all lectures. If you are absent more than three times without prior notification, regardless of your class performance and the quality of your paper, your mark will be failure. If you are absent for sickness, you must provide doctor's note in the next class. Preparation and attendance are required: 'Required readings' in the class schedule must be read before each class. Active participation in discussions is required.
2. Late Arrivals and Early Departures: Your instructor finds people entering and leaving the classroom during lecture to be quite unpleasant and distracting. If you know that you must leave early on a given day, please let me know before class. Repeat offenders will find their semester grades reduced.
3. The classroom: You are encouraged to raise your hand during seminar and ask questions, add comments, or ask for something you didn't understand to be repeated or clarified. Cell phones and other appliances that make noise are not welcome in the class.
4. Assignments and Extensions: Assignments will be announced well in advance of due dates. If you know in advance that you cannot make a due date for an assignment, please discuss it with me beforehand. Your instructor is under no obligation to accept late assignments; assignments that are accepted may suffer a significant grade penalty.
5. Language: The language of instruction at Chinese University of Hong Kong is English.
6. Accommodations: If you require special testing accommodations or other class modifications, please notify both the professor and the Support Center for Students with Disabilities(SCSD) by the end of the first week in which you are enrolled in the course.

7. Nondiscrimination Statement: Your teacher values equality of opportunity and human dignity and diversity. In accordance with Chinese University of Hong Kong policy, I will not tolerate discrimination or harassment based on race, color, ethnic or national origin, civil status, religion, creed, political convictions, language, sex, sexual orientation, age, personal handicap, or the use of any means to palliate such a handicap. If there is something we can do to make the class more hospitable, please let me know.
8. Cheating and Plagiarism: The Chinese University of Hong Kong values academic integrity. Therefore, all students must understand the meaning and consequences of cheating, plagiarism and other academic offences under the code of student conduct and disciplinary procedures. Please read Honesty in Academic Works at CUHK website.

9. Communications Policy: I would like to encourage questions and comments in class as well as face-to-face communication after the class. I'll try to answer email promptly (please don't expect immediate responses). As a general policy, to assure quality of communication, I would like you to speak with me in person during my office hour by appointment or after class, rather than flooding me with email. Please do not send a last-minute email requesting extensions. These will be ignored.

Assessment Expectations

- Grade A ~ A-: The student makes excellent use of empirical and theoretical material and offers well-structured arguments in his/her work. The student writes comprehensive essays / answers to exam questions and his/her work shows strong evidence of critical thought and extensive reading.
- Grade B+ ~ B: The candidate shows a good understanding of the problem and has demonstrated
 - the ability to formulate and execute a coherent research strategy.
- Grade B- ~ C: The work is acceptable and shows a basic grasp of the research problem. However, the work fails to organize findings coherently and needs improvement.
- Grade D: The work passes because some relevant points are made. However, there may be a problem of poor definition, lack of critical awareness, poor research.
- Grade F: The work shows that the research problem is not understood; there is little or no critical awareness, and the research is clearly negligible.
