Application of Earth System Science Programme Geoscience Ambassadors Scheme (2021 Fall)

Preamble:

To promote Earth System literacy, the Earth System Science Programme (ESSC) is organizing, in collaboration with the Geological Society of London Hong Kong Regional Group (GSL HKRG) and Social Responsibility and Sustainable Development Office (SRSDO), an ESSC Geoscience Ambassador Training Scheme. Applications are now open for CUHK students of the ESSC Programme. Successful candidates will be invited to attend a series of training workshops and field studies offered by ESSC or/and the GSL HKRG. Upon completion of training, each group of the Geoscience Ambassadors will be required to initiate or/and organize one group event related to Earth System Science for the general public in 2021 Fall.

Format:

- Shortlisted students will be interviewed in mid-September - early October; successful applicants will be admitted as ESSC Geoscience Ambassadors
- Theme: Emerging 3-dimensional technologies, including 3D modelling, 3D printing, 3D visualization, 3D display etc. Potential projects include, but are not limited to, 3D feature productions and virtual tour productions. Any other creative ideas are welcome too.
- Training: Each ESSC Geoscience Ambassador will be required to attend all training workshops and field trips between October and November 2021.
- Deliverables: Ambassadors in groups of 3 – 4 are expected to self-initiate or/and organize a group event related to Earth System Science for the general public.
