

Evaluating Air Pollution Disparities to Inform Environmental Justice

27 Sep 2023

4:30 p.m.

Conference Room, 3/F,
Mong Man Wai Building

Zoom Link (Mixed-mode)

ID: 992 4969 9833 Passcode: 983837

Dr. Kelvin FONG

Dalhousie University

Air pollution is among the top contributors to the Global Burden of Disease. Communities are exposed to varying levels of air pollution, leading to health inequities. How do we evaluate air pollution disparities? And what are some knowledge gaps to advance this research area? This talk covers recent projects involving low-cost sensors and satellite remote sensing to understand air pollution disparities and better inform environmental justice in our community.

EARTH AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES PROGRAMME

Enquires: 3943 5494 eesc@cuhk.edu.hk